NO MATTER THE WEATHER

Rabot 365 Hybrid Pants win the ISPO Award in the OUTDOOR category

For the average Norwegian every day is the perfect day to be outdoors, as they are quite used to the weather. And, as you know, there is no such thing as bad weather. Especially not with the new Rabot 365 collection by Bergans of Norway, because it equips you for any type of weather, all year round. All designs in the Rabot 365 collection are high-tech and extremely robust, enabling the wearer to experience nature all year-round, regardless of weather conditions. They offer the highest level of protection without sacrificing comfort. Proven technology combined with robust, premium and sustainable materials, make Rabot 365 the perfect gear for passionate outdoor enthusiasts who like to be out in the open regardless of the season.

This is exactly what was honored by the ISPO Award jury - the Rabot 365 Hybrid Pants won the ISPO Award in the OUTDOOR / Hybrid Outer Layer category.

The collection, named after the French geographer and climber Charles Rabot, who explored northern Scandinavia at the end of the 19th century, was inspired by the DNT cabin of the same name in Hemnes, Norway. The 500th DNT cabin is astounding with its bold and very modern architecture, which fits perfectly into the backdrop of the peaks of the Okstindan mountain range.
